Welcome to our P5 termly newsletter.

Literacy

Shortly we will be starting our novel study where we will be completing different activities to help us understand, analyse and evaluate the text. As we will be reading together on a daily basis, not all reading groups will continue to read in class during this time. Reading homework is to read a book of choice for pleasure. We will also be using our novel study as the stimulus for our writing this term, which will be centred around personal writing.

Numeracy

In numeracy we will be looking at the areas of place value, addition, subtraction and multiplication, practising different mental and written strategies. Children should regularly be practising their tables at home, as well as in school. In maths we will be looking at the different units of measurement used for length, weight and volume. Any opportunities for measuring and weighing at home would help your child.

Learning on other areas of the curriculum

Our science topic this term will examine ecosystems, food chains and webs. In RME we will be learning more about Christian forms of worship and artefacts, while in art we will be looking carefully at the work and techniques used by several famous artists. We will then create work using their style. Keep an eye out in the entrance hall where our lovely work will be on display.

Health & Wellbeing

The children will be working with Mrs McKendrick on invasion games this term. Our weekly class gym sessions will follow on from this and continue to build stamina and fitness. Mrs McClelland is working with the children on the different food groups and the importance of a balanced diet. In emotional health we will be using circle time to help express our feelings, build resilience and find restorative ways to deal with minor problems we encounter.
